

AADB 135TH ANNUAL MEETING CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

The Palmer House Hilton
September 22-23, 2018

About the AADB Annual Meeting

The AADB Annual Meeting provides an excellent forum for keeping up-to-date with state board concerns. Programs are designed to allow opportunities for interaction among all participants, including board members, dentists, dental hygienists, educators, board attorneys, and dental specialty associations. Panels and small discussion groups exchange ideas and information. Participants take away valuable information on current issues and all aspects of dental and dental hygiene regulation.

About AADB

The American Association of Dental Boards is a national association that encourages the highest standards of dental education, promotes higher and uniform standards of qualification for dental practitioners, and advocates uniform methods in the conduct and operation of dental examining boards. Membership is comprised of boards of dentistry, advanced education boards, present and past members of those boards, board administrators, board attorneys, and dental and dental hygiene educators.

Our Mission

To serve as a resource by providing a national forum for exchange, development, and dissemination of information to assist dental regulatory boards with their obligation to protect the public.

ASDA/ADEA Dental Education Update Adams Room

Interprofessional Education for Collaborative Practice

Jeffery C.B. Stewart, DDS, MS, Senior Vice President for Educational Leadership and Innovation, American Dental Education Association

This session will provide an overview of interprofessional education and interprofessional collaborative practice. Specific examples will be provided that demonstrate how dental schools and programs are preparing graduates to communicate and engage with other health professionals to address the health of their patients.

This session will be moderated by Richard Hetke, Executive Director, American Association of Dental Boards.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Understand key components of interprofessional education and collaborative practice.
- Examine the integration of dental professionals into health care teams.
- Recognize the impact of IPE and IPC on patient care.

The Future of Grassroots Advocacy

Jeffrey Kerst, Vice President, American Student Dental Association (ASDA)

The session will define what grassroots advocacy means for the dental student today and how ASDA members are shaping the landscape of grassroots advocacy for the future. The session will provide examples of successful student-led grassroots initiatives and identify opportunities to collaborate with external stakeholders moving forward.

This session will be moderated by Richard Hetke, Executive Director, American Association of Dental Boards.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Learn about grassroots advocacy from a dental student perspective.
- Understand the importance of student-led advocacy efforts.
- Discover ways to collaborate with ASDA members on future advocacy efforts.

Exam Design: How to Evaluate any Test: What do the Testing Standards Suggest?

Adams Room

Kurt F. Geisinger, PhD, W.C. Meierhenry Distinguished University Professor and Director, Buros Center for Testing, The University of Nebraska-Lincoln

This session will provide an approach to the evaluation of any measure, with specific reference to licensing and certification tests. As such, the terms validity, reliability, and fairness will be discussed in detail. Utility will also be considered. Some legal issues will be reviewed, as licensing measures sometimes lead to legal inquiries.

This session will be moderated by Adolphus M. Jackson, DMD, President, Board of Dental Examiners of Alabama.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Recognize the importance of validity in evaluating a measure.
- Understand how reliability, fairness, and utility impact and are impacted by validity.
- Understand some of the factors that influence the validity of a measure and how professionals should evaluate measures.
- Learn the limitations of any test, as no measure is completely valid.

3:15 - 4 p.m.

DLOSCE: Development of the Dental Licensure OSCE

Adams Room

David M. Waldschmidt, PhD, Director of Testing Services, American Dental Association

This session will provide a review and update on the development of an Objective Structured Clinical Examination (OSCE) for dental licensure. In 2017, the ADA Board of Trustees authorized the ADA Department of Testing Services to begin the process of developing a clinical dental licensure exam which will not require performance of procedures on patients.

A Steering Committee has been charged by the Board of Trustees with direct oversight of the development of the OSCE, and includes two members from the Board of Trustees, two members from the practicing community, two members from the education community, and two members who currently serve on a state dental board. This presentation will focus exclusively on the technical aspects of designing and building this OSCE.

This session will be moderated by Bruce H. Seidberg, DDS, MScD, JD, Immediate Past Chair, New York State Board for Dentistry.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Understand the definition and characteristics of an OSCE.
- Understand the overall process of development of high-stakes examinations.
- Understand the importance of the practice analysis, the role of test specifications, and the role of test construction teams in exam development.
- Receive an updated timeline for release of the exam.

Occupational Licensure: The Economics of Occupational Licensing and Directions for Policy Reform

Adams Room

Ryan Nunn, PhD, Policy Director, The Hamilton Project and Fellow, Economic Studies, The Brookings Institution

In recent years, practitioners, researchers, and policymakers have been engaged in a national discussion of occupational licensing policy. A growing recognition of the economic importance of licensing—particularly as it relates to the labor market—has led to increased scrutiny of traditional regulatory arrangements. This session will describe the state of the research literature on occupational licensing, what these findings mean for optimal policy, and how policymakers are addressing occupational licensing.

This session will be moderated by Dennis E. Manning, DDS, Illinois State Board of Dentistry.

By participating in this session, attendees will gain an understanding of:

- The economic framework for evaluating labor market regulation, including recent empirical evidence on its effects.
- Prominent proposals for reforming occupational licensing in health care.
- Recent state and federal actions on licensing policy, with a focus on developments in the health care sector.

9:15 – 9:45 a.m.

Occupational Licensure: Promoting Competition in Regulated Occupations: Federal Trade Commission Perspectives

Adams Room

Karen A. Goldman, PhD, JD, Attorney Advisor, Office of Policy Planning, Federal Trade Commission

In health care, competition benefits consumers in many ways, potentially decreasing price while increasing quality, access, innovation, and choice. The FTC's Office of Policy Planning promotes these goals by holding workshops that examine ways to enhance competition, and by issuing advocacy letters explaining the likely competitive effects of proposed laws and regulations. Many of these efforts have focused on occupational licensing, because licensing restricts the supply of practitioners and reduces competition, even when it has a legitimate health and safety purpose.

This session will be moderated by Frank A. Maggio, DDS.

By participating in this session, attendees will gain an understanding of:

- FTC's recent competition advocacy in the area of occupational licensing.
- A framework for thinking about proposed laws and regulations and other public policy issues from a competition perspective.
- The FTC's advocacy activities in health care and dentistry.
- Lessons learned from the FTC's roundtable on initiatives to enhance occupational license portability.

Corporate Dentistry (DSOs): Supporting Dentists to Increase Access to Quality Affordable Care
Adams Room

Alan J. Acierno, DDS, Chief Executive Officer, DecisionOne Dental Partners
Kyle Poulsen, DDS, Supported Owner/Dentist, Pacific Dental Services
Rick Workman, DMD, Founder and Executive Chairman, Heartland Dental

Association of Dental Support Organizations (ADSO) member organizations support a practice environment where dentists have the ability to choose the administrative services which best allow them to focus on patients, expand access to quality dental care, and improve the oral health of their communities. ADSO member companies support more than 15,500 dentists, 45,000 staff, and 8,000 offices across 48 states in the U.S. in addition to many more in several countries. This informative presentation will include “myths vs. facts” about DSOs, and current and future trends.

This session will be moderated by Dea Smith, Executive Director, Tennessee Board of Dentistry and Frank A. Maggio, DDS.

By participating in this session, attendees will gain an understanding of:

- Facts and myths about dental service organizations.
- ADSO's Mission and Code of Ethics.
- How DSOs provide administrative support, compliance, clinical education, and mentorship for member dentists.
- DSO opportunities for dentists.
- How DSOs give back to their communities.

Allied Health, Para Health & Dental Therapy: Dental Therapy in Minnesota
Adams Room

Christy Jo Fogarty, RDH, ADT, BSDH, MSOHP, Children's Dental Services, Board Member, Minnesota Board of Dentistry and Past President, Minnesota Dental Therapy Association

In this session, participants will learn about dental therapy and its evolution in Minnesota. We'll review the "boots on the ground" function of dental therapists in daily practice and how they are opening access to dental care to those most in need. The session will provide an understanding of how a collaborative management agreement works and guides the practice of dental therapists and advanced dental therapists. In addition, we will discuss the training and testing required to gain licensure.

This session will be moderated by Karen L. Comisi, CDA, RDA, FADAA, New York State Board for Dentistry.

By participating in this session, participants will:

- Learn about the history of dental therapy in Minnesota.
- Learn the definition of dental therapist and advanced dental therapist (ADTs).
- Understand the definition of supervision levels in Minnesota.
- Understand DT/ADT scope of practice.
- Gain knowledge of the required training and testing.

2:15 – 2:45 p.m.

Allied Health, Para Health & Dental Therapy: The Federal Trade Commission's Scope of Practice Advocacy and its Application to Dental Therapy
Adams Room

Karen A. Goldman, PhD, JD, Attorney Advisor, Office of Policy Planning, Federal Trade Commission

The FTC's advocacy regarding the dental therapy profession is a new twist on the agency's longstanding scope of practice advocacy, which has also addressed competition issues related to advanced practice nursing and dental hygiene. FTC advocacy in this area has emphasized that overly broad scope of practice restrictions and supervision requirements, unsupported by legitimate health and safety concerns, may limit competition and decrease access without providing any countervailing benefits to health care consumers, especially underserved populations.

This session will be moderated by Patricia Hanson, RDH, Louisiana State Board of Dentistry and Dental Hygiene Board Member, American Association of Dental Boards.

Allied Health, Para Health & Dental Therapy: The Federal Trade Commission's Scope of Practice Advocacy and its Application to Dental Therapy (continued)

By participating in this session, attendees will gain an understanding of:

- FTC scope of practice advocacy in health care.
- FTC competition advocacy regarding the dental therapy profession.
- FTC perspectives on supervision and collaboration requirements.
- Other considerations, such as restrictions on practice setting, that may inhibit the growth of the dental therapy profession.

Technology and Regulations: Saliva Liquid Biopsy (sLB) in the Dental Office Adams Room

David T.W. Wong, DMD, DMSc, Felix & Mildred Yip Endowed Distinguished Professor, Associate Dean of Research and Director of the Oral/Head and Neck Oncology Research Center, UCLA School of Dentistry

The advent of personalized medicine employing molecular targeted therapies has markedly changed the treatment of cancer in the past decade. Although tumor tissue biopsy-based genotyping is the current clinical practice for guiding clinical management, biopsy procedures can result in significant morbidity, limiting sampling to static snapshots which are further limited in scope by the inherent sampling bias of the analysis itself. To overcome these issues, technologies are needed for rapid, cost-effective, and noninvasive identification of biomarkers at various time points during the course of disease. Liquid biopsy is a rapidly emerging field to address this unmet clinical need as diagnostics based on cell-free circulating tumor DNA (ctDNA) can be a surrogate for the entire tumor genome. The use of ctDNA via liquid biopsy will facilitate analysis of tumor genomics that is urgently needed for molecular targeted therapy.

This session will be moderated by Arthur C. Jee, DMD, President, Maryland State Board of Dental Examiners and Tonia Socha-Mower, EDDA, PHRDH, BSDH, MA, Kentucky Board of Dentistry, Director, Morehead State University Counseling, Medical & Dental Services.

By participating in this session, attendees will gain an understanding of:

- Salivary diagnostics.
- Salivaomics.
- Liquid biopsy.
- Saliva liquid biopsy.

Attorney Update Adams Room

Lori H. Lindley, JD, Senior Assistant Attorney General,
Oregon Department of Justice

The Attorney Update is a popular fixture of AADB's Mid-Year and Annual Meetings. This year, our speakers will explore a variety of legal topics of interest to state boards, including specialty recognition, current legal case updates, how sleep apnea relates to dentistry, and other topics.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Learn about legal topics of interest to state boards.
- Understand the current legal landscape and its impact on the business of state boards.
- Receive interpretation and insights about legal issues of importance.

4:45 – 5:45 p.m.

AADB Open Forum: State Board Issues Adams Room

Frank A. Maggio, DDS

This lively, interactive session will provide the General Assembly an opportunity to discuss regulatory concerns and other important topics encountered by state boards in a spontaneous, free-flowing setting. The goal of this forum is to stimulate conversation. Participate in the AADB Open Forum by asking questions, discussing challenges, and sharing your successful practices and innovations.

By participating in this session, attendees will:

- Learn about regulatory and other topics of interest to state boards.
- Understand how other jurisdictions are addressing important issues.
